

Pieces of Eight

Melbourne is renowned for the standard of its contemporary jewellery-making and this gallery in North Fitzroy is a showcase for the city's emerging talent. Most of the designers represented are Australian art school graduates (non-jewellery pieces are often displayed too) and their work, in anything from precious metals to more humble materials, is either one-off or limited edition, so you're guaranteed to stand out from the fashion crowd. There is an on-site workshop as well, and many of the designers work to commission. 635 Brunswick Street, T 9497 8121, www.piecesofeight.com.au

